Re: Your Exceptional Services

Dear Robert:

I write to commend you for the exceptional services you performed on behalf of our mutual client – an older woman whose delusions and paranoia were relentlessly preyed upon by two unscrupulous men who ultimately bilked our client out of over $336,000.

You not only helped track down these individuals and uncover their fraudulent scheme to steal from our client, but you also recommended a psychiatrist whose sessions with our client were enormously helpful in improving her mental health. Equally important, you assiduously pursued this crime with the relevant law enforcement and prosecutorial authorities. Those efforts ultimately resulted in the filing of two felony complaints that led both men to plead guilty. As a consequence, they are now likely serve significant prison sentences and be ordered to make substantial restitution payments to our mutual client.

Needless to say, the client and I are extraordinarily gratified by these developments, and pleased by all of the services you performed in furtherance of these goals. In ensuring these results, you went well above and beyond a typical private investigator's call of duty. You became a vital member of our team and committed yourself to ensuring that justice would be done in this case. I would not hesitate to employ you again and to recommend – as I already have – Worldwide Intelligence Services to colleagues within my firm and elsewhere.

Yours sincerely,
